Goldwater-Miller Team Up

28-Year Control Lost

Barry Smashes GOP Machine

By J. A. DEAR

GOP Convention Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO — (July 15) Barry Goldwater went over the top tonight after his name was gingerly put in nomination by Sen. Everett Dirksen in a speech that was surprisingly defensive in tone.

This crowns four years of hard work by Sen. Goldwater's conservative supporters. Their juggernaut easily smashed the feeble opposition of badly disorganized moderates and liberals who had run every GOP convention since 1936. In terms

AP Forecast 'Accurate' On Nominee

Goldwater Reaped
25 More Votes
Than AP Credited

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A steady stream of reports on where convention delegates stood, distributed by The Associated Press beginning last March, foreshadowed Sen. Barry Goldwater's nomination.

The Associated Press came within 25 votes of forecasting the Arizona's first-ballot total. The reports enabled Associated Press members to publish and broadcast a continuing count of delegate totals long before the convention opened. AP staffers in every state helped compile the totals.

Delegate positions were assigned on the basis of instructions from state and district party conventions on whom to support, commitments by primary election laws, personal pledges and statements from delegates favorable to a candidate but not officially bound.

One week before the convention opened, this was the score in the AP tabulation, with 655 votes needed to nominate:

Goldwater 711, Henry Cabot Lodge 45, Richard M. Nixon 3, Nelson A. Rockefeller 102, William W. Scranton 151, others 120 and uncommitted 176.

Wednesday night, before large blocks of votes swung into the senator's column after the first ballot, the vote stood this way:

Goldwater 883, Lodge 3, Rockefeller 114, Scranton 214, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith 27, Sen. Hiram Fong 5, Walter Judd 21, and Gov. George W. Romney 41.

Mother Calm As Her Son Is Nominated

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The mother of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater reacted calmly when her son received the Republican presidential nomination.

Said Mrs. Baron (Josephine) Goldwater: "I've gotten so used to this that it doesn't bother me."

Nonetheless, for three days and nights, the 89-year-old woman has sat in front of her television set watching the San Francisco convention intently.

"I've been very much interested in these activities," she said.

Once a pioneer Arizona nurse, Mrs. Goldwater has remained strong. She lives with a woman companion, Susan Armstrong, formerly of Chicago, but moves about her two-story Phoenix home with authority.

She likes to do things for herself. As she reached for a cigarette Wednesday, a visitor offered to light it for her.

"No thank you," she declared. "I do that myself. I'm strong as a man."

The nominee's mother weighs 95 pounds and is 5-feet-5. Her voice is strong.

"All my life, I lived in a two-story house. Those stairs don't bother me," she said.

She said she never expected her son to seek the presidency, "but that's all right. I want him to do whatever he wants to do."

Now that Goldwater has won the GOP nomination, his mother worries a little about the future.

Convention Sidelights On Film

AMID the color and ceremony of the convention, Mrs. Barry Goldwater waves from her box following the nomination of her husband to head the GOP ticket.

SEN. MARGARET CHASE Smith's nomination to the presidency marked a new high tide for women in politics.

ONE OF THE MOST colorful personalities at the convention, Sen. Hiram Fong of Hawaii was also a nominee.

Brucker Has Trouble With First Name

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mrs. Wilber Brucker had a tough time with her first name Wednesday night when he seconded the nomination of Gov. George W. Romney as Michigan's favorite son at the Republican National Convention.

The proposed route would extend from Nashville to Paducah, Ky., crossing into Illinois near Metropolis and connecting with Interstate 57 near Pulley's Mill.

Miller Selection Is No Surprise

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Triumphant Sen. Barry Goldwater picked Rep. William E. Miller as his running-mate today and moved to rally Republican forces for the autumn battle against President Johnson's Democrats.

The Arizona conservative quickly began drafting battle plans with GOP leaders after sweeping to the Republican presidential nomination Wednesday night.

His swift, massive bandwagon rolled over Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and other "Stop-Goldwater" forces in a roof-raising first-ballot victory in the convention.

About all that was left after that was for the senator to disclose who he wanted to run with him, and word came this morning.

Dean Burch, a 36-year-old Tucson, Ariz., lawyer, second in command of Sen. Barry Goldwater's campaign forces, is the Republican nominee's choice to become chairman of the party's National Committee.

Denton Kitchel, who guided Goldwater's forces thru the primary election campaign, is to be director of Goldwater's presidential campaign.

Goldwater let it be known that Miller, a New York congressman and retiring GOP national chairman, was his man and that California GOP Leader William F. Knowland would announce the decision at the Republican state chairman's meeting this morning.

Miller's selection came as no surprise. It had been rumored for days he was the senator's first choice and Wednesday night Goldwater all but made it official by announcing he was "favorably inclined" toward Miller.

Actually the delegates must nominate the vice-presidential candidate, but by tradition, the presidential nominee gets his choice.

Miller, a Roman Catholic from a big-vote state, is of the type of rough-tough campaigner that politicians call a gut-fighter.

Miller's selection came as no surprise. It had been rumored for days he was the senator's first choice and Wednesday night Goldwater all but made it official by announcing he was "favorably inclined" toward Miller.

Miller sounded the need for loyalty in the convention after Goldwater smashed to his victory.

The Pennsylvania governor told the applauding delegates the party had to "emphasize its unity."

The fitful months of bitter struggle for the party's presidential nomination came to a screaming end in the vast Cow Palace when the roll call of states reached South Carolina.

That Southern state gave the 55-year-old Goldwater, the grandson of a Jewish peddler, all its 16 votes and put him over the 655 needed for the big prize.

At the end of the first ballot, the vote stood this way: Goldwater 883, Scranton 214, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York 114 and others 41.

Mrs. Johnson, Lynda To Truman Library

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and her oldest daughter, Miss Lynda Bird Johnson, will fly here Friday for a leisurely visit at the Harry S. Truman Library.

Mrs. Johnson has been to the library before, once at the dedication of the structure, but never for a private visit.

Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, the First Lady's press secretary, described Mrs. Johnson and her daughter as "history buffs."

She said the visit was first discussed when Mrs. Johnson and former President Harry S. Truman met last March in Greece at the funeral of King Paul. She said the two visitors probably would spend the afternoon at the library, which contains the papers and historical items of the Truman administration.

Brucker's name appeared in the huge signboard used to list the speaker at the rostrum as "Wilbur."

Plan Boycott Of African Cairo Meet

Unwelcome Sign Up for Tshombe At Summit Table

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Moise Tshombe will boycott the African summit conference in Cairo because an unwelcome sign has been put up for Tshombe.

Kasavubu and Tshombe decided to stay home from the meeting of the Organization of African Unity after some African leaders vowed they would not sit at the same table with the former Katangan secessionist leader. Foreign ministers preparing for the conference declared Tshombe an undesirable Tuesday but did not oppose Kasavubu's attending.

Many African nationalists are still bitter about Tshombe's links with the Belgians during the Katanga secession and the slaying of leftist Patrice Lumumba, the Congo's first premier, while in Tshombe's custody.

In its brief life the Gizenga regime was recognized by the Communist bloc and the Casablanca group of African nations — Ghana, Guinea, Mali, the United Arab Republic, Morocco and Algeria.

Ghana, Algeria and Uganda ended the drive to bar Tshombe from the Cairo conference.

takes no action within 60 days the release becomes final.

Weinman's 86-page decision denounced the coverage given to the case by three Cleveland newspapers and also mentioned three nationally known radio commentators and columnists.

The judge, acting on a request for a writ of habeas corpus, ordered Sheppard's release under $10,000 bond.

Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) Prosecutor John Corrigan, who handled the state's case in the trial 10 years ago, said he will ask for a stay of execution to prevent Sheppard's release.

Ohio Atty. Gen. William Saxbe said the decision would be appealed.

The state law says no one indicted for first-degree murder may be admitted to bail," Corrigan said in Cleveland. Sheppard was indicted on a first-degree murder charge but was found guilty Dec. 21, 1954, of

Cast Shadow On Career Of Gov. Scranton

Position Differs From Goldwater's In '60 Convention

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The cloud of delegate votes that eclipsed William Warren Scranton's presidential nomination bid also cast a long shadow across his political future.

Politicians are loathe to enter the public career of any current office holder, with the election record of the slim, affable Pennsylvania governor.

But at the same time there are facts that weigh heavily in an assessment of Scranton's prospects in the years ahead—particularly 1968, another presidential year.

No 1 fact: Scranton is a governor who can not succeed himself.

Thus, his position is different from that of two other notable politicians who turned convention defeat into victory four years later — the late President John F. Kennedy and the new Republican presidential nominee, Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Kennedy, defeated at the 1956 Democratic convention in a bid for the vice-presidential nomination, came back like a whirlwind during the next four years to win the top spot and the election.

Serantons to Travel To Hawaii for Rest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton and his family made plans today for a Hawaiian vacation to forget the stress and strain of the futile, one-month campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

He was sentenced to life but is eligible for parole this fall.

Sheppard always has contended a "bushy-haired intruder" killed his wife the night of July 4, 1954. Sheppard, according to the federal court, would be freed when he posts the $10,000 bond in Cleveland. Then a new trial would be set.

Weinman said Sheppard's constitutional rights were violated by these actions:

1. Failure of the trial judge to grant a change of venue for a continuance due to the great amount of publicity.

2. Inability of maintaining impartial jurors.

3. Failure of trial Judge Edward Blyth, now dead, to disqualify himself although there was uncertainty as to his impartiality.

4. Improper introduction of lie detector evidence at the trial.

5. Unauthorized communications to the jury during deliberations.

Ann Landers Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am a psychology major who seems perfectly competent when it comes to handling other people's problems but I can't seem to handle my own.

My friends call me the poor girl's Ann Landers. Everyone pours out his troubles to me because I am so "patient, so understanding, so easy to talk to."

At parties I'm always stuck with the bores and the drunks who have no terminal facilities. They corner me and unravel stories of unrequited love, miserable relatives and the secret fears and doubts they just "couldn't discuss with anyone else."

Frankly, I'm sick of it. My ears are tattered and torn. What can I do?—CORNERED CORA.

Dear Cornered: Paste up those tattered ears and stay with it, Honey. The world needs you.

The good listener, like the whooping crane, is a vanishing breed. Everyone wants to talk, but few people are willing to listen.

I know about such things, be-

Salt Lake's Police Feud To a Climax

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—The police commissioner told the judge that he, the commissioner, had been wrong.

The judge told the police commissioner that he, the judge, was dismissing charges against him.

Thus ended Wednesday Salt Lake City's police entrapment feud that had landed both the police commissioner and the city judge in court.

It started when City Judge Horace Beck said he found evidence of police entrapment in cases involving prostitution and lewdness charges.

Police Commissioner Herbert Smart requested the county attorney in an open letter to take all future vice cases to a court other than Beck's.

Judge Beck was ordered into District Court to show cause why he should not be restrained from presiding over a lewdness trial in progress.

Beck then cited Smart with contempt of court for releasing the letter to the press, which he said was "an attempt to influence the court."

Beck won his case in District Court and was allowed to continue with the lewdness trial Wednesday. Beck dismissed contempt charges against Smart after Smart said he was in error in releasing the letter.

During the height of the feud, Beck said "I know of no other city in the West which makes hustlers and gigolos out of its policemen."

Of the lewdness case, he said: "With $100, booze and beer, five policemen made a date with this woman to pose for a picture. They paid her a salary, then arrested her. That is entrapment."

Smart has not conceded there is entrapment. He says he wants the State Supreme Court to rule on the matter.

Hugh is a good student and a fine athlete. We have never had any problems with him. He gets along fine with neighbors, friends and relatives. He started to suck his thumb when he was an infant and has never stopped.

When Hugh was four years old I spoke to our doctor about his thumb-sucking and he advised me to ignore it. A few years later spoke to the doctor again because I had heard that thumb-sucking makes teeth grow in crooked. He said, "Nonsense. Forget it."

We have not mentioned this to Hugh in years but it is discouraging to know that a 12-year-old boy is going to sleep every night with his thumb in his mouth. Do you have any advice?—M. L.

Dear M. L.: Your doctor gave you good advice.

Parents should never shame, scold or threaten a child who sucks his thumb. Concentrate on giving the boy more attention and praise—and reassurance that he is loved. He clings to this childish habit because it gives him a feeling of security.

Letters Pour In To Young Ted Kennedy

BOSTON (AP)—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy lies immobile in a Boston hospital bed recovering from a broken back and pondering the question of a little Philippine girl: "Could you please pinch John-John for me?"

When he's finished with that, he can work on seven riddles a Lawrenceburg, Ind., woman sent him on seven consecutive days "to help you while away the tedious hours."

These are only two of the thousands of persons of all ages who have wished the young Massachusetts Democrat a quick recovery and a return of his "Irish luck."

Almost 42,000 letters have swamped Kennedy since the June 19 airplane crash which put him in an orthopedic bed.

He also has received about 700 telegrams, flowers, cakes, religious statues and medals, records, books, boxes of candy, and baskets of fruit.

When Kennedy was in Cooley Dickinson Hospital in Northampton, the letters came in by the bagful. Now that he is in New England Baptist Hospital they have slowed to 300 or 400 a day, press aide Edward Martin estimates.

Martin says Kennedy reads "a surprising amount" of the mail and so does his wife Joan.

Eventually they hope to answer or acknowledge all the letters and gifts.

Kennedy's accident has affected children all over the world, many who recall the assassination of his late brother, President John F. Kennedy.

$7,500 Benefit For Son's Death

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson Wednesday signed a bill to pay Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Sparks of Waynesville, Mo., $7,500 for the death of their 12-year-old son, Dennis L. Sparks.

The boy was fatally injured four years ago by the explosion of an anti-tank rocket he found adjacent to Ft. Leonard Wood.

The rocket exploded when Dennis tried to dismantle it with an ice pick, a committee report on the bill said.

POLICE PRACTICE—This week the Sedalia Police Department conducted firing practice for all personnel at the Sedalia Rod & Gun Club firing range. The exercise was held to improve marksmanship, stress safety precautions and to check weapons for possible defects. Morning and afternoon sessions were

FBI Puzzles Hill Man With 'Mustang' Hunt

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — New fangled sports cars apparently are rare in some parts of the Ozark hills.

While beating the brush officers came across a farmer and inquired if he had noticed a gray mustang in the vicinity.

"Nope," he replied. "I haven't seen a horse like that in this part of the country for quite a while."

TPA Picnic
Expected To Attract 400

More than four hundred members of Travelers Protective Association, Post "F", and their wives are expected to attend the seventh annual picnic of the organization to be held Thursday, July 23, beginning at 6 p.m., at the Catholic Community Center, according to Harry W. Walch, president.

Final plans for the annual affair were made Wednesday night at a meeting of the board of directors, when serving and entertainment committees were appointed.

As in the past, all food and drink will be furnished by the post, and the picnic is free to members, their wives, and prospective guests.

Bernard Stanfield, post secretary, asks that all reservations be made by Monday, July 20, so that adequate food may be provided.

Walch gave a report on the National TPA convention held in Richmond, Va., at which he was elected a member of the national board of directors. Since his elevation to the national board, he will resign from the state board. The members of Post "F" board voted to recommend the appointment of Bernard Stanfield to fill Walch's unexpired term as a member of the state board.

Walch reported the local post had experienced a ten per cent increase in membership during the 1963-64 year ending May 31, and now has 707 members.

Present at the Wednesday night meeting in addition to those previously mentioned were: Eugene Kriesel, Leo Boeschen, P. A. Sillers, John Snodgrass, K. U. Love, Jack Pasley and James Giokaris.

Barry

Continued from Page One) But not only does he advocate leaving the Negro seeking justice in Alabama at the mercy of Wallace, he permits his party to take a stance in its platform that will invite support from the racists he says he detests.

The source of Goldwater's trouble is not that he is half-quoted, as Dirksen suggested, but that he is quoted accurately. He did say he had always favored withdrawing recognition from Russia, a statement he later modified. He did advocate getting out of the United Nations, later said we should stay unless Red China got in, and that may happen. He wanted to sell TVA, but later put out a row-back. He had condemned the progressive income tax though he now seems resigned to it. He has criticized the Social Security System, once did say it should be voluntary, and took that back when Gov. Rockefeller jumped him.

Governor Romney before this convention withheld his support of Goldwater until "I can find out if his private views are the same as his public views." Romney's quaint reservation would seem absurd if it were taken to indicate anything other than his confusion about Goldwater's actual position on any issue. If Romney is confused, what about everyone else?

The truth, of course, is that Goldwater himself is confused. He is the host of contradictory opinions. His bewildering and frequent switches are the product of fuzzy thinking.

Only fuzzy thinking could lead anyone to suggest that decentralization of the national government is possible or safe if the nation is also committed to pursuing a foreign policy that courts nuclear war. These are mutually explosive propositions. Big government is a consequence of big war.

The two great wars of this century have taken a frightful toll: millions dead, vital institutions of society and the moral fibre of people weakened.

"Be good son," says the mother to her son leaving for the Army in war. Sonny Liston answered that: "How you gonna be good when you know you're gonna do bad?"

War may be inescapable. But it isn't the casual affair that Goldwater sometimes seems to imply.

Most of the presidents of the United States came from large families; none was an only child.

World News Glimpses

LONDON (AP)—More than 100,000 British postal workers struck for 24 hours today, bringing total stoppage to mails already jammed by a slowdown. The strikers—sorters, mailmen and drivers—are demanding a 10 per cent hike in basic wages that average $33.60 a week. The government is offering a 4 per cent with another hike after a review of pay and conditions.

MESOLONGION, Greece (AP)—The widow who accidentally sprinkled insecticide instead of sugar on a mourning dish has been charged with manslaughter by negligence. So have her son and daughter.

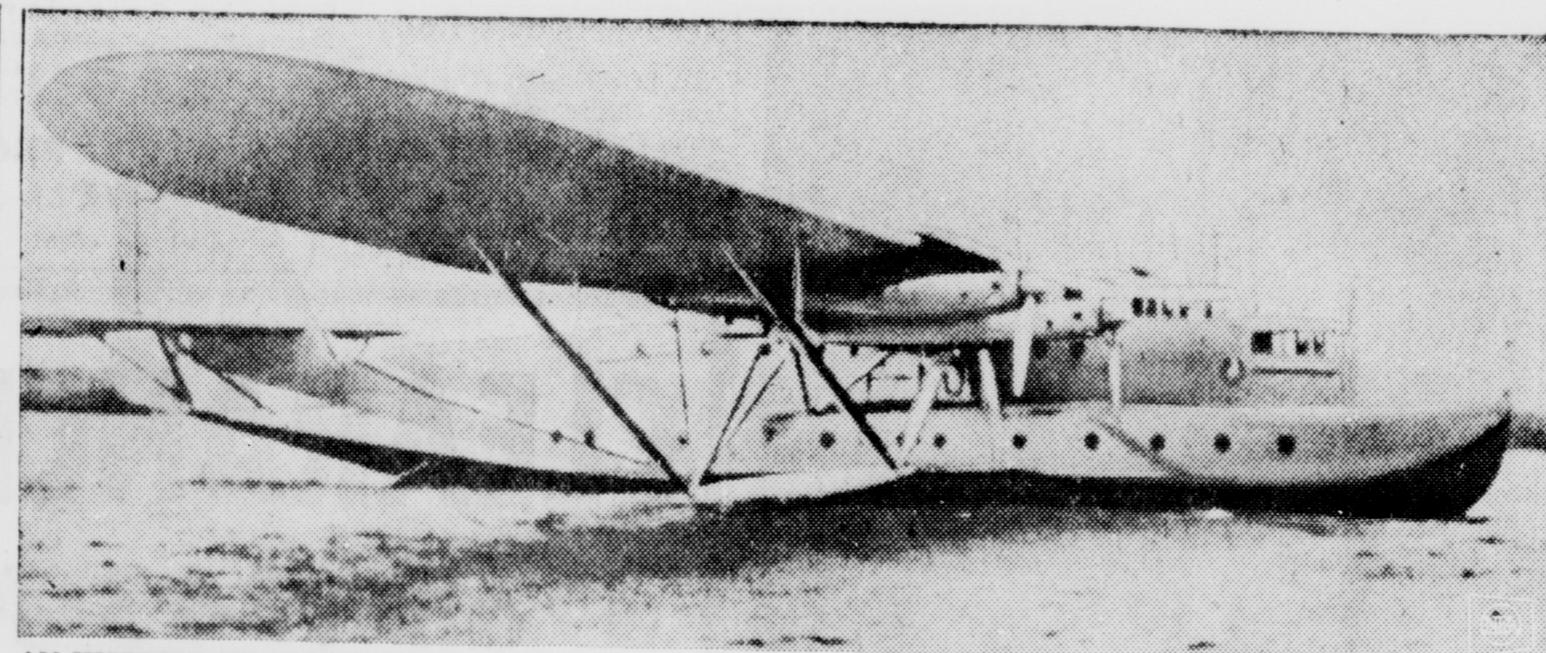

Twenty-two of the mourners died after eating the traditional boiled wheat germ with raisins which Maria Apostolopoulos prepared for them after a memorial service for her husband last Sunday in the village of Styria. Another 128 became ill, and 35 are still in the hospital.

Mrs. Apostolopoulos and her children didn't taste the dish. She was still serving the guests when they began dropping in agony.

BERLIN (AP)—Communist East Germany says a U.S. Army sedan drove into an East German street near the border area Sunday, disregarded traffic signs and tried to run down the leader of an East German patrol.

ADN, the official East German news agency, gave this version Wednesday night of an incident in which the U.S. Army said an East German border guard slapped an American officer. The Communist version did not mention the slapping.

The U.S. Army said previously a motorcycle patrol stopped the car and one of the guards reached through a window and "struck the American officer with his hands." It denied the vehicle was in a restricted zone or had violated any traffic regulations.

AN HISTORIC MILESTONE—This month is the 25th anniversary of the first nonstop flight from the United States to France. In 1939, Air France's hydroplane, the Lieutenant-de-Vaisseau-Paris, rose from the waters of Port Washington Bay and 28 hours and 27 minutes later, landed at Biscarrosse, France. The 74,000-pound hydroplane was 104 feet long and had a wing span of 161 feet 10 inches. The six engines developed a total of 5,400 horsepower. The plane was designed to carry a crew of eight, 30 passengers and a total payload of 21½ tons.

Report 73 Cities Don't Merit Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board listed 73 cities Wednesday that fail to generate enough traffic to qualify for local airline service.

In general, unless a city generates at least five passengers a day, the board will start a proceeding to determine whether the service should be discontinued for lack of use.

The listings, however, did not necessarily indicate that the CAB might start any suspension actions in the near future.

Airline reports to the CAB showed these cities as failing to generate at least five passengers a day.

Ozark—Kirksville, Mo.

Central—Dodge City, Garden City and Goodland, Kan.; Guyan, McAlester and Muskogee, Okla.

The board sent a quarterly report to the mayor of each city with local airline service, noting that some of the cities are involved in proceedings on renewal, suspension, deletion or modification of feeder airline service.

The board made the information public, it said, so that in each case "the community at large will be aware of its air traffic generation and of the possibility that the service can be lost if not used."

Charley Might Become Chum To Another Horse

JUNCTION CITY, Kan. (AP)—Chief, the only Cavalry horse still on Army rolls, may get a companion soon at Ft. Riley, Kan.

An ex-Cavalry mount named Charley who now lives at the U.S. Medical Center in Springfield, Mo., will be up for auction Friday.

And John Montgomery, Junction City publisher, says he will try to buy Charley and donate him to Ft. Riley as a companion to Chief.

Charley, a black gelding, is at least 25 years old and has been at the Springfield Center for federal prisoners for 22 years.

When he was transferred to Springfield from Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., he was used for mounted guard purposes for close-custody prisoners. Recently he has been set out to pasture on the Center's farm. He has now been declared surplus to the institution and will be sold by the General Services Administration at auction at 3:30 p.m. Friday in Kansas City.

Montgomery, candidate for the Democratic nomination to Congress from the 2nd District, said Wednesday he will bid for the horse and, if successful will donate him to Ft. Riley.

"I'm going to try to buy Charley to keep him from being sold to a rendering plant or some similar fate," Montgomery said.

"There is enough stable space and corral room at Ft. Riley for both Charley and Chief, and I think it would be nice for Chief to have a companion. After all they both served in the Cavalry."

Chief, a 32-year-old bay gelding, has been in retirement at

Ft. Riley by special order since 1953.

The Goldwater Story

Decision to Enter Senate Race Started Barry's Rise

EDITORS: This is the first of a three-part series on the Goldwater political story.

Part One—How it started
By BOB WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Low dirty-gray clouds blotted out the sun and an unusual December rain fell on the southern Arizona desert.

Gov. Howard Pyle and his friend, Phoenix businessman Barry Goldwater, argued as they made the 15-mile drive to suburban Glendale.

Pyle was convinced the Republicans should enter a strong candidate against Arizona's junior senator—Democrat Ernest McFarland.

True, McFarland was the Senate majority leader and, now late in 1951, at the height of his power. But Pyle believed the popularity of GOP presidential candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower and earlier Republican breakthroughs in Arizona added up to a possible victory in the 1952 election year.

Goldwater, Pyle argued, was the man who could turn the trick. The 42-year-old department store executive had been campaign manager for Pyle's successful gubernatorial bid and had won a seat on the Phoenix City Council in 1949 as a reform ticket candidate.

The Goldwater name was no stranger to Arizonans. Barry's grandfather—Big Mike—had, in 1867, built a trading post on the banks of the Colorado River along the Arizona-California border.

Susan Among First

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—One of the first to show up at the hotel headquarters of Sen. Barry Goldwater early today was Susan Scranton.

Apparently no one recognized the tall 18-year-old daughter of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton. She had been in tears a short time earlier when her father lost the GOP presidential nomination.

Her voice hoarse but her smile bright, she strode up to the reception desk on the floor below the Goldwater suite and said:

"Where do I get a Goldwater button?"

There are many cars that cost almost as much as a Cadillac. But it is a matter of fact that the decision to buy one of them could be a false economy.

Consider the major items included in the basic price of a Cadillac that are usually extra on other cars: automatic transmission, high-performance engine, power steering, power brakes, automatic cornering lights, and power windows on most models.

Then think of what a new Cadillac can save you on operation and maintenance. Cadillac is actually the rival of much smaller, lighter cars in gasoline efficiency.

So add it all up. You'll see what most owners mean when they say you don't spend more for a Cadillac.

Don't Think Upswing Will Be Affected by Campaign

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Personal political preferences aren't changing most businessmen's conviction that the current economic upswing will survive a heated presidential campaign and the November voting, no matter how it goes.

The forces pushing the economy higher look too strong to be moved much by campaign oratory or dire political predictions.

The latest industrial production figures show how strong the economy is. The new orders still pouring in, despite vacation letdowns, are too high to suggest any letup in the fall months.

This is how businessmen are reasoning:

The administration in power has every reason to ward off any faltering. Neither by word nor deed would it do anything but try to make times better. Also, neither the incumbents nor any possible successors after November would have any reason to fight good times. And, at any rate, political measures usually take quite a while in affecting the economy.

Pirates Shut Out Phillies; Milwaukee Defeats 'Frisco

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Philadelphia. Gene Mauch said, was having troubles with left-handers.

The Phillies had some more Wednesday night. Jerry Lynch, a southpaw swinger, clouted a three-run homer, powering Pittsburgh to a 3-0 victory over Philadelphia.

In talking about the Phillies' recent problems, Manager Mauch was referring specifically to left-handed pitchers. But Lynch's blast—to the opposite field—did as much damage as pitchers have been doing.

The Phillies have dropped six of their last seven games since vaulting into first place in the National League. The slump has tumbled them back out of first—although not by much.

First-place San Francisco also lost Wednesday night, 6-2 to surging Milwaukee, keeping Philadelphia just one game behind.

Some shoddy fielding contributed to the Phillies' latest loss. After Manny Mota led off the fourth inning with a single, Roberto Clemente grounded to third baseman Richie Allen.

The rookie let the ball get by him for an error, and shortstop Ruben Amaro, backing the play, picked up the ball and tossed it wildly to second, permitting the runners to advance one base each.

Swim Meet Is Set For Surf Club

Some of the best swimmers of Sedalia and the surrounding area will hit the water at 9:30 a.m. Saturday in the Sedalia Surf Club's Mid-Missouri invitational swim meet.

Entries are coming in from pools in Marshall, Jefferson City, Columbia and other mid-Missouri communities, indicating some fine competition is in store for swim fans. To date some 25 swimmers from the local team have signed entry cards. However, Columbia is expected to enter the largest group, a contingent of possibly 100 or more swimmers.

Although the Sedalia club will not be numerically as strong as some of the other teams it is hoped that some of the local swimmers will turn in top efforts and earn a share of the awards.

Officials for the water classic will be provided by most of the competing groups. Those from Sedalia are Gary Stock, Foster McGuire, Jim Gladbach, Cheri Zink, Kay Robinson, Charlotte Cordry, C. B. Hager, Russ Robinson and other club members.

The pool will be ready with lane buoys, end markers and roping off contestants areas Friday evening prior to the meet.

Anyone interested in competitive swimming is cordially invited to attend.

Comets Beat Rockets In Softball Slugfest

Wednesday's Khoury league girls' softball was another slugfest full of homers. In the petite league, the Comets downed the Rockets, 19-8.

The Comets managed five homers in the contest. Terry Young hit one in the second with one on. Alana Green had three, one in the first with two on; one in the third with two on and one in the fifth with one on. Gloria Kinder had one in the fifth with one on. For the Rockets, Cathy Allen homered in the second with none on.

Cathy Allen was the losing pitcher for the Rockets with nine strikeouts. Alana Green took the win for the Comets, fanning 12 Rocket batters.

Lynch followed with his home run off Jim Bunning.

Elsewhere in the NL, Cincinnati edged Houston 2-1, Los Angeles bombed St. Louis 13-3 and Chicago nipped New York 3-2.

Bob Friend scattered seven singles, evening his record at 8-8. The Phillies put the first two men on in the eighth, but Friend fanned Tony Gonzalez and induced John Herrstein to hit into a double play. Bunning, the perfect game pitcher, lost his fourth game against nine victories.

The Giants took a 2-1 lead on Lynch's 28th homer, a two-run blast in the fifth. But the Braves rallied in the seventh, scoring three runs. Hank Aaron singled across the tying run, and Lee Maye followed with a two-run double.

Ed Mathews added a two-run homer in the eighth. Aaron's three singles gave him 2,005 career hits, a Braves' record.

Ron Fairly smashed two homers and drove in five runs for the Dodgers. Willie Davis and Tommy Davis also connected as Larry Miller recorded his first major league victory. The Dodgers collected four runs in the fourth on two hits, two errors and a wild pitch.

Dick Farrell was frustrated for the seventh time in his attempt to win his 11th game for Houston. Farrell won his 10th game on June 14, the first pitcher to win that many this season.

Marty Keough's two-run homer in the sixth inning shattered any thought Farrell had of finally winning. Jim O'Toole picked up his 10th victory against four defeats.

Chicago edged New York by the first to take an early lead and the Chiefs couldn't muster one until the fifth. The Moberly squad roared back with four more tallies in their half of the fifth.

Moberly scored three runs in the first to take an early lead and the Chiefs couldn't muster one until the fifth. The Moberly squad roared back with four more tallies in their half of the fifth.

The Chiefs put together seven big runs on six hits and two Moberly errors. Another run in the ninth boosted the Chiefs.

The seventh inning rally got its biggest help when Jerry Barr slashed a home run with two men on. The lone run in the ninth came when Ernie Dow tripped and scored on an infield out.

Sedalia had another anxious moment in the ninth when Moberly filled the bases on two singles and a hit batter. A force out and a double play got the Chiefs out of trouble. Tim Morgan grabbed a line shot headed for centerfield, flipped the ball to Paul Horner at second and Horner threw to first for the third out.

Hitting for the Chiefs was as follows: Lonnie Scott, two doubles; Ernie Dow, a double and a triple; Butch Walker, two singles; Jerry Barr, one homer; Bob Lange, one double; Tim Morgan, Paul Horner and Don Crack, one single each.

Play Merchants

Tonight at 8 p.m. the Chiefs tangle with the Sedalia semi-pro Merchants on the Liberty Park diamond. The BJs and Merchants have a hot rivalry going this season with the Merchants holding a 2-1 edge in wins.

The complete league standings are as follows: Hawley's Sport Shop, 763; Farmers & Merchants Bank, 752; Palmer's Barber Shop, 750; Robb Well Drilling, 749; Norman Plastering Company, 748; Castle Construction, 747; Dugan Paint Co., 740; Broadway Lanes, 738; McCown Brothers Salvage, 735; House of Heavilin, 733.

In the A class of the derby shoot event Dick Cole snatched first place with a score of 24. Jim Hamilton, Sedalia, and Vernon Arnett, Green Ridge, tied for second with 23's.

In B class competition Jim Grady, Sedalia, fired a 24 for first and Bob Parker, also of Sedalia, came in second with a 20.

Dick Cooke, Sedalia, took first in C class shooting with a 22 score. He was followed in second place by Larry Gorrell, Sedalia, with a 21. Garland Burton, Sedalia, and Gene Hollenbeck, Green Ridge, both fired 19's for a tie for third.

Claims Third French Open Golf Crown

CHANTILLY, France (AP)—Roberto De Vincenzo of Argentina, dropped in a six-inch putt on the fifth extra hole and claimed his third French Open golf title Wednesday.

De Vincenzo, who had a one-stroke lead going into the 18-hole final, finished the scheduled 72 holes in a tie with South African Cobie Legrange, each with a 12-under-par 272.

De Vincenzo, who had won this tourney in 1950 and 1960, and Legrange immediately went into a sudden-death playoff and each had birdie fours on the easy, par-five first hole. They each parred the next three.

Phil Rodgers, La Jolla, Calif., who led after the first round and was only one back after 36 holes, ballooned to a 75 in the morning and had a 73 for a 284 total, finishing far back.

HILLCREST LANES Hornung In Near Peak Form Today

WEST DE PERE, Wis. (AP)—Green Bay Packer halfback Paul Hornung, free of a year's suspension for betting on games was in near peak form when he reported to the rookies checking in Wednesday night for the start of the training season.

It would be tough if I waited a year and then flunked the physical," cracked Hornung as he took his place in line. He didn't fail, weighing in at 225 pounds, five more than his playing weight.

"Of course," he said, "that was after a big meal and with my clothes on." Hornung has been under a supervised conditioning program for two months. Part of his schedule included running up and down the steps of City Stadium.

He appeared in excellent condition, without trace of a 1962 knee problem that slowed the Packers' versatile performer.

Coach Vince Lombardi had suggested that all hands report in good condition.

Lombardi's Packers finished second in the Western Division last year after three straight conference titles and two consecutive league crowns.

The Eagle, launched this year as a potential new defender of the dented old cup which is bolted to a stand in the New York Yacht Club, has yet to be seriously challenged in the current trials.

And the Eagle, skippered by Bill Cox, remained untested for the second straight day Wednesday when the trial series was postponed again because of fog.

Four other 12-meter U.S. yachts are competing and the line-up for Thursday calls for the Eagle to race against Easterner and Constellation to take on Neferiti.

Watching Wonderful World Of Supermen On Television

NEW YORK (AP)—There are many neighborhood banker who shows him how to borrow money for a new car for $243 less than it would cost if he printed the money in his basement.

The super Americans are the people you see pictured in television commercials and magazine advertising.

The world they dwell in is not the world I live in. It is a far, far better world. It is a veritable wonderland.

The thing that makes the world of the super Americans superior to the commonplace world you and I inhabit is that, when they have a problem, some kindly person tells them of a product to buy that will solve it, and they live happily forever and ever.

I have been watching the wonderful world of the super Americans on television for some years now, and here are a few of my favorite characters:

The guy taking a shower with a new kind of soap and looking so happy you feel sure there must be a mermaid tickling his feet.

The freckle-faced kid who brushes his teeth with a tooth-brush that saves him from 34 per cent of the cavities that fall to the dumber kids.

The fellow who finds a friend-

Langewisch- Keeney Vows Said in June

Miss Rosella Langewisch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Langewisch, Sweet Springs, and Mr. Phillip L. Keeney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Keeney, Sweet Springs, were united in marriage at half past six o'clock Saturday, June 27.

The Rev. Ross E. Haupt, performed the double ring ceremony before the altar of Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Sweet Springs. The altar was decorated with large baskets of blue majestic daisies, huckleberry and white double column stocks.

Pews were marked with large white satin bows. A gold kneeling bench was flanked by tall candelabra, holding lighted tapers.

The traditional organ music was played by Mrs. Paul Wylie, who accompanied Miss Linda Weaver, as she sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an empire gown of hand clamped Chantilly lace and silk organza.

Lace fashioned the Sabrina neckline, the long tapering sleeves and the high bodice, with a cummerbund of silk molding the waist. Scissor pleats, which controlled the fullness of the organza skirt, opened at the front to a godet, appliqued with bands of scalloped lace. At the back, unpressed pleats extended to a chapel train. The bridal headdress was a miniature rosette cluster cap, encrusted with pearls, which held her triple pout veil of silk illusion. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of elegance and blue tinted carnations.

Candles were lighted by Miss Gayle Kenney, niece of the bridegroom and Mr. Charles Langewisch, brother of the bride. Miss Kenney wore a light blue organza dress with white lace completely circling the full skirt and trimming the neckline. She wore a wrist corsage of blue tinted French carnations.

Miss Susan Hall, friend of the bride, served as maid of honor. Her dress was light blue organza over taffeta, fashioned with short sleeves, scooped neck, and full street length skirt. Her headpiece was a light blue crown with matching circular corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at VFW Hall, Concordia. Miss Ruth Ann Hollrah attended the guest book.

The five tiered wedding cake was highlighted with a cluster of white wedding bells and pink roses. The bride chose for traveling, a black and white two piece sheath dress with white accessories. Her corsage of white gardenia was taken from the bridal bouquet.

After a short wedding trip, the couple is at home at 109B South Lea Drive, Lee's Summit.

A British Fascist Rushes at Kenyatta

LONDON (AP)—A member of the British Fascist party rushed at Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta of Kenya today and knocked him against a car waiting to take Kenyatta to the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference.

A police constable who intervened also was caught in the tangle and all three landed in a heap against the automobile. Kenyatta was unhurt. His assailant, who said he is a member of the Hitler-type organization, was subdued and arrested.

The Kenya government protested strongly. Kenyatta, who is in his 70s, complained of the attack at the conference session.

Earlier he had received an apology at his hotel from Duncan Sandys, Commonwealth relations secretary.

Sukarno's Big Appetite

By LEON DENNEN
Newspaper Enterprise Analyst

UNITED NATIONS—N. Y.—(NEA)—What price will the United Nations now offer President Sukarno to stop him from attacking Malaysia?

When Indonesia's dictator hit the warpath in 1962, the U.N.—with back door U. S. help—gave him West New Guinea with its 700,000 Papuan inhabitants.

Sukarno had no historic, racial or religious grounds for annexing the territory. Leaders of the Papuans pleaded in vain in the U.N. councils against an injustice that doomed their people to living under a dictator.

But Sukarno—like Hitler after he swallowed Danzig and Austria—said that he was satisfied. He pledged to work for peace in Asia. It appears he never meant to keep his word.

Last January President Johnson had to send Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy to Jakarta to remind Sukarno of his promise not to attack Malaysia. Asia's little Napoleon, who still gets millions of dollars in American aid, refused to commit himself.

However, State Department officials—always ready to see a silver lining in their negotiations with Red dictators—were "cautiously optimistic" about the Kennedy-Sukarno talks. They were similarly optimistic after Undersecretary of State

IN FLIGHT: In a manner all too familiar to history, refugees carrying their children and possessions trudge through the jungles of Sarawak, Malaysia, in flight from Sukarno's partisans.

Averell Harriman received Nikita Khrushchev's pledge to "crush" Malaysia. The Kremlin's top salesman, Deputy A. Mikoyan, even promised back neutrality in Laos.

Today, Laos hovers on the brink of disaster and time is fast running out for Malaysia. While Premier Khrushchev talks

"peaceful coexistence" in the West, he is heating up the crisis in Asia to convince feuding Reds that he is as anti-imperialist as his Chinese rival Mao Tse-tung.

Russia now proclaims full support for Sukarno's ambition communism of Laos and Viet Nam.

The little nation of 10 million inhabitants—uniting scattered Malaya, Singapore, Sarawak, North Borneo and Brunei—is one of the few genuinely democratic states in Southeast Asia. It is also the most prosperous country, with the highest per capita income rate.

Equally important to the West is the fact that Malaysia is one country in Asia that depends entirely on private investment

Mrs. E. Zimmerschied Heads Liberty Group

Mrs. Ed Zimmerschied was elected president of Liberty Extension Club July 8 at the home of Mrs. Charles Kast, Route 4.

Other officers will be: Mrs. John Houston, vice president; Mrs. Earl Romig, secretary; Mrs. A. H. Tobaben, treasurer; Mrs. Paul Baum, publicity chairman.

Mrs. Baum gave a clothing program and family life was discussed by Mrs. John Houston.

Presiding was retiring president, Mrs. Allen Oswald. Roll call was answered by "A Trip I Took or Would Like to Take."

for the development and maintenance of its prosperity.

Yet despite emphasis on private investment and a conservative fiscal policy, Malaysia has not neglected large investment on public works and extensive social welfare services. An efficient tax collecting system and a realistic tax program assure sufficient funds for the public sector.

No wonder Khrushchev, Mao

Refreshments were served by the hostess to 11 members and four children.

The next meeting will be Aug. 12 at Covered Bridge Park.

and Sukarno want to "crush" Malaysia. It is proof that even in a little country free enterprise offers greater benefits to the ordinary people in a shorter time than communism.

Once-lush Indonesia, with a population of 100 million, is nearly bankrupt. Its economy is in chaos; hunger stalks the land. Sukarno can do nothing to improve the lot of the hungry masses as long as 80 per cent of his budget goes to the armed forces. All he can offer them is a diversion—war on neighboring Malaysia.

Washington diplomats, unfortunately, are not yet convinced that Sukarno is little more than Moscow's puppet. They see the conflict between Indonesia and communism in Asia.

Weird Craft May Pave Way For Astronauts In Landing

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A pair of weird-looking aircraft dubbed "the Flying Bathtub" and the "Flying Bedstead" may pave the way for astronauts to make safe controlled surface landings on earth and on the moon.

The Bathtub, a wingless vehicle called the M2, has made more than 30 manned flights above this desert test center. Project officials say its concept offers great encouragement that spacemen of the future will be able to fly their space ships back to earth like an airplane, selecting their landing spots.

The Bedstead, officially called the Lunar Landing Research Vehicle, is scheduled for its first flight next month. It is a complex maze of tubing, wiring and rocket engines which will enable pilots to simulate lunar landings and take-offs.

President Johnson examined both craft during his June 19 visit here.

New District
Highway Chief
For Missouri

Leland D. Fletcher, a 42-year-old highway engineer, on Aug. 1, will assume his new duties as State Highway Department District 4 engineer at Kansas City.

Fletcher, formerly District 1 engineer at St. Joseph, succeeds Carl E. Klamm who has been promoted to head the Department's Construction Division at Jefferson City.

Fletcher, formerly District 1 engineer at St. Joseph, succeeds Carl E. Klamm who has been promoted to head the Department's Construction Division at Jefferson City.

A native of Piggott, Ark. Fletcher joined the Department in 1949 and except for a one year period of resignation, has been with the department since. He has held many responsible positions with wide experience in design, surveys, planning and various senior engineering duties. He has been District 1 engineer at St. Joseph since Sept. 1, 1961.

Fletcher, a graduate of the University of Arkansas, received his Bachelor of Science degree in engineering in 1949.

Married and the father of two children, Fletcher hopes to move his family to Kansas City in the near future.

District 4 includes 12 western and west central Missouri counties: Benton, Carroll, Cass, Clay, Henry, Jackson, Johnson, Lafayette, Pettis, Platte, Ray and Saline.

District 4 has more than 900 State Highway Department employees with a monthly payroll of about $360,000.

About 3,600 miles of state highways are in the district.

Patty Duke Escapes The Awkward Age

Editor Note — The fine actress who moved from a sensitive portrait of young Helen Keller on the stage to film versions of "The Miracle Worker," to a popular television comedy series writes here of a young actress' problem which, curiously, seems to have skipped her completely, and tells how she avoided a brief, compulsory "retirement."

By PATTY DUKE
(for Cynthia Lowry)

NEW YORK (AP)—I think the awkward age is just a state of mind. I don't believe that child actors need fear that dreadful, dark, never-never land somewhere on the other side of limbo where they are supposed to disappear while waiting to outgrow the awkward years.

Work and a positive attitude can help the young actor overcome his or her youth.

I'm very aware that waiting to mature can be the most tiresome and unnerving time in the life of a young actor or actress. The main reason, aside from the fact that the individual may be changing physically, is that there are not many parts written for 14-to 18-year-olds. When a role does come along for a 16-year-old, they more than likely look for someone who is around 20 who can play down to 16.

However, I think an actor's attitude can make a big difference. The only example I can give is myself. When I was 16 I didn't feel particularly awkward nor did I feel that my career was going through a transitional stage. On the contrary, I felt that I was standing on the threshold of my career. All that was uppermost in my mind was to continue working and learning how to become a better actress.

So, instead of waiting for the right part to come along, my manager, Mr. John Ross, and I kept on the lookout for something worth doing. Thus when the opportunity for me to do a comedy series on television presented itself it seemed to us that here was the next logical step in my career. It was a challenge worth facing.

It turned out to be one of the most exciting years I have ever experienced. Of course, the fact that "The Patty Duke Show" was so well received by all our television friends added to my pleasure.

I've learned many things since Patty and Cathy Lane (my television alter egos) joined the airwaves—mostly in the acting area.

As "The Patty Duke Show" moves into its second season I can't help but hope that the series goes on an awfully long time so that I can make the transition from a teen-ager to an adult without any break or gap in my career.

I'm hoping that this will take care of my awkward years.

Use Pesticides Safely

Pesticides are poisons. Many are powerful enough to cause injury to humans and animals if they are improperly used. When you use pesticides — be careful!

The Department of Agriculture regulates registration and labeling of pesticide chemicals. But the final responsibility for safe use is on you — the user.

In selecting a pesticide, read the label to find whether it is effective against the insect or pest you want to control. After choosing one, read the label again. It explains how to prepare and apply the chemical, whether you must wear gloves or protective clothing.

Follow the instructions not just the first time but every time you use the chemical. Some safety pointers for gardeners:

Use the recommended dosage, or less if it will do the job. Using too much may harm humans, plants, animals, or leave harmful residue.

Certain insecticides (one is DDT) can be used without special protection if they are in dilute dusts or water sprays. Most liquid concentrates and oil solutions require special precautions; avoid spilling them on skin, and keep away from face. When opening a pesticide container, keep your face away from the cap.

Dilute and mix sprays outdoors or in a well-ventilated place. If you spill liquid concentrate on skin or clothing, wash yourself immediately with soap and water. Change into clean clothes. Do not mix together different insecticides unless the label recommends it.

When applying pesticides, protect yourself. Guard against contamination of skin and clothing. If the label recommends it, wear a handkerchief, gauze mask, or respirator on the face.

If the day is windy, or if drift is likely to occur, do not spray or dust. Keep pesticides away from streams, lakes and ponds. Fish are highly sensitive to many of them. Never apply pesticides near dug wells or water cisterns.

Keep herbicides away from flowers, shrubs, and other susceptible plants. To prevent harmful residue, never spray fruit and vegetable plants during the specified period before harvest. Never spray edible plants before picking.

Remember that pesticides can enter the body through the mouth, by absorption through the skin, and by inhalation. Wash face, hands, and exposed parts of body after handling or applying pesticides.

Store pesticides in tightly closed containers, where children and pets cannot reach them.

Pickle Making Time Is Here

DO YOU HAVE THE RIGHT INGREDIENTS? Vegetables or fruits should be fresh, sound and thoroughly cleaned. Fruits that are over-ripe will not hold their shape in pickle making. Over-mature vegetables will shrivel during the pickling process.

PURE SALT of the coarse or pickling type is best for pickling. Table salt may be used but may cause cloudiness or darkening of the pickles. Salt draws out the juice, hardens the tissue and checks action of some organisms that might otherwise cause spoilage. Too much salt causes shriveling; too little may make pickles soft and slippery.

VINEGAR is the acid solution that helps control fermentation and increases crispness. Use good clear standard vinegar 4 to 6 per cent acidity, which means 40 to 60 grain strength, as shown on the label. Too strong vinegar makes pickles bitter, too weak makes them soft. Fruit vinegars have a fruit flavor and aroma. Malt and wine vinegars have herbs and other seasonings added and give a distinctive flavor. White vinegar has a constant acid content, costs less than fruit vinegars and lacks the fruity flavor and aroma.

SPICES should be fresh. Check your supply before the pickling day. Whole spices hold their flavor better than ground spices, but all lose flavor with age. Ground spice will cause more darkening than whole spice.

SUGAR gives pickle sweetness and flavor. To preserve their shape and color, dip into the sugar bin — makes no difference whether it is beet or cane sugar. White sugar gives a clearer color than brown, but some people prefer the flavor that brown sugar gives.

DO YOU HAVE THE RIGHT EQUIPMENT? Cure in well-washed stone crocks or enamel-lined pans. Heat pickles in an aluminum, porcelain enamel, or stainless steel kettle. Some types of aluminum pans may darken pickles. Copper and zinc utensils may react with the acid to form poisonous substances.

CAREFULLY SELECT JARS. Discard any with chips, cracks, etc. Pint and half pint jars are recommended as they can be processed easily.

Tips on Cooking and Preserving Nutrients

The three R's of cooking to conserve nutrients in vegetables are: Reduce the amount of water used; reduce cooking time; reduce the amount of surface area exposed.

How much water you use in cooking vegetables is most important. Use no more than is necessary. Use any remaining cooking liquid with the vegetable or for sauce or gravy.

Most frozen meats may be thawed before cooking, or not, as desired, with equally good results. Large frozen roasts may take as much as 1½ times as long to cook as unfrozen cuts of the same weight and shape.

Pork should always be cooked thoroughly to avoid the danger of trichinosis. Beef cooked to the rare stage (140 degrees) will shrink less and be juicier than if cooked to the well-done stage.

To get the full nutritive value from any meat, use the drippings or broth in gravies and sauces.

The foremost rule for cooking eggs is to insure best eating quality is to use low to moderate temperatures and avoid overcooking. If too high a temperature is used or if cooking is continued too long, the protein in the egg shrinks, making the white tough and the yolk mealy.

Cereals and rice should be cooked in no more water than will be absorbed in the cooking. To retain maximum food value, they should not be drained or rinsed. Nor is washing rice before cooking desirable — or necessary.

Lower Oil Prices

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Lower prices were in effect today for more than 75,000 barrels of crude oil in Oklahoma, Kansas and Illinois.

Mobil Oil Co. cut its basic price for 30,500 barrels of crude oil a day in Oklahoma and a similar amount in Kansas from $3.05 to $3.00. In Illinois, it went from a flat $3.00 rate to a sliding price scale which will make the price for most of the 2,800 barrels a day $2.96.

C. R. A. Inc. put a similar five-cent cut into effect for the 13,250 barrels of Kansas crude it buys daily.

These reductions follow similar cuts by other companies. About 400,000 barrels a day in Oklahoma and 210,000 barrels a day in Kansas now have been affected by the lower prices.

VP's of Nonproduction . . .

After viewing and listening for several hours to speakers, delegates and commentators at a political convention, any person who can stay with the television program until closing time is a Spartan.

Those who pass out along the way are certain the convention performances have demonstrated their efficacy as a substitute for sleeping pills. It's all very interesting up to a point but much of it is too horny, corny, noisy, repetitious and boring. We'd just as soon watch the Flintstones except there is no replacement available.

Speaking of replacements, have you ever become attached to a household gadget whose age is equivalent to a museum piece—and then it gets out of whack. Like a 30 year old electric clock you wouldn't part with for twice its purchase price? Or even a potato peeler or toaster. They work like a charm but like so many such items they wear out.

So you go to a store to find parts' replacements and there are none. You send it off to a factory. Finally you are advised, "they don't make those things anymore."

So like the fellow who discovers watching a political convention is a sleep producer, you settle for a substitute. It happens again and again. Every time you find something special—something you can't live without—they stop making it.

Victims of this tragedy of automation say it occurs too often and too consistently to just happen. Somebody has got to be planning it.

A suspicion is growing that well-regulated manufacturing concerns have included in their executive make-up vice-presidents in charge of non-production of items the customer likes.

Is it possible some such vice-presidents are operating in the television field at political convention time?

Convention City One of Contrasts

By DREW PEARSON

SAN FRANCISCO—This is a city of contrasts—vivid, historical, important contrasts. Here are some of them:

CONTRAST NO. 1—When I was here in 1945, San Francisco was giving birth to the tomb while the show went on. None of us had even witnessed anything remotely similar. The groups of performers were dressed in the colorful costumes of their respective countries and at times thousands of individuals performed in unison. Every kind of folk dance, mass exercise, acrobatic feat, and athletic exhibition was executed with flawless precision and, apparently, with greatest enthusiasm."

Later as president, it was the same Eisenhower who went much further than Truman, Kennedy or Johnson by inviting Nikita Khrushchev to a complete tour of the United States and for friendly talks at Camp David. No other American president has gone this far.

A great Republican, Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan was a member of the delegation, and helped to forge the document which was to realize man's dream.

Republican leaders all over the country supported him. Sen. Warren Austin, a rock-ribbed Vermont Republican, was appointed first U.S. delegate to the UN, followed by another New England Republican, Henry Cabot Lodge, whose grandfather had helped wreck the League of Nations.

There was Republican-Democratic unity behind this new effort to fulfill man's age-old dream.

The suspicions, the divisive fears came from V. M. Molotov, the sour, dour foreign minister of Soviet Russia, who glowered, criticized and several times threatened to go back to Moscow.

Today in the United Nations, the Russians have just gone further than any other major power except the United States—by proposing an established UN peace force, an army to be used to keep the peace.

This is what American presidents, both Republican and Democratic, have been urging for some time, but which Moscow hitherto has viewed with suspicion.

Simultaneously in San Francisco, the most dominant leader in the Republican party has been saying that under certain conditions he would pull the United States out of the United Nations.

His whole campaign for president has been based on a policy of belittling, casting suspicion on this hard-won machinery of world peace.

This week his platform writers have come out with the amazing denunciation of the "hot line," the open teletype link between Moscow and Washington, established after long negotiation and after considerable effort to allay Russian suspicions, for the sole purpose of keeping the peace.

In brief, the most dominant figure in the Republican party, now in San Francisco, is as suspicious as Molotov 19 years ago. He proposes not only to give military men the right to use the atom bomb, but to remove the hot line means of warning against accidental, quick-fingered use of the bomb.

In 19 years—what a contrast.

Ike Has Changed

CONTRAST NO. 2—At exactly this time 19 years ago, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, was in Moscow, standing on top of Lenin's tomb in Red Square, reviewing the Red Army. He tells about his Russian friendships in his book "Crusade in Europe."

Overshadowing all goals for us Americans was the contribution we locally might make toward establishing a working partnership between the United States and Rus-

Rough and Personal Campaign Ahead

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Is the 1964 presidential campaign going to be rough or not?

It has threatened to be rough—perhaps the roughest in years—and personal, too.

Just a few hours before he got the Republican presidential nomination last night Sen. Barry Goldwater went after President Johnson in a way both rough and personal.

And this was not the first time he got rough.

But after the nomination the senator pledged a vigorous but clean campaign and said he will conduct it solely on the issues and will not "engage in personal attack."

As the winner, relaxed and apparently happy with his success, he said on radio and television he knows Johnson's conduct of the campaign will "be like mine" and won't delve into "rumors and gossip."

Just how Johnson would react to a roughing up is not predictable. But no one has ever accused him of being a political patsy. He didn't get where he is being one. And he is very sensitive to criticism.

All week Republican orators had gone through the usual political convention routine with speeches ranging from high plateaus to jibes at Johnson and the Democrats. The Democrats will do the same in reverse at their convention in August.

But Goldwater, while waiting for the Republicans to name him their nominee, brought the whole business down to earth with a crash by telling newsmen Johnson "is the biggest faker in the United States—the phoniest individual who ever came along."

This writer has covered every convention of both parties since 1944 and cannot recall ever hearing any of the candidates over those 20 years using that kind of language.

Goldwater said this while criticizing Johnson's record on civil rights. The senator dared the President to make an issue of it, saying: "I will just read the thousands of words he has spoken against anti-poll tax legislation, the FEPC (Fair Employment Practices Commission) and equal accommodations."

He was talking of years past because the Constitution has been amended to outlaw the poll tax in federal elections. And Johnson pushed this year's Civil Rights Act which forbids discrimination in employment or in places of public accommodation.

(The FEPC was a World War II measure which Congress eliminated after the war. Despite proposals to restore it, it never was. The prohibition against discrimination in employment in the 1960 Civil Rights Act gives government less power than the wartime measure.)

Johnson, as Senate leader from 1955 to 1961, steered through to passage the Civil Rights Act of 1957—the first of its kind in this century—and the Civil Rights Act of 1960. Neither forbade discrimination in employment or accommodations.

Goldwater voted for the 1957 act, was absent during the final vote on the 1960 act, and voted against the 1964 act, a stand which may have helped his election chances in the South but brought him criticism from liberals and Republicans and particularly from Negroes.

Democrats, anxious for the Negro vote in the large cities of the North, were expected to make Goldwater's stand against the civil rights act an issue in the campaign if he got the nomination.

Less than two weeks ago Goldwater took another rough swipe at Johnson in listing what he said he considered the main issues in the campaign this year. He said one would be "the dark shadow of scandal that hangs over the White House itself."

He didn't explain at that time what he had in mind.

Want to Receive Letters?

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY—My father uses a very good method to get a letter answered by someone he knows is a slow writer. He always marks the first page "No. 2" and then goes on with his letter. The slow writer answers right back to ask for the missing page, as curiosity cures a slow writer.—PAULA

GIRLS—This should be a good way to get children to answer letters containing questions needing a quick answer.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—To make a neat carrying bag for a nurse's cap, open a plastic rain bonnet to its fullest size, tape the ends together along one side as far as the tie ribbons. Insert the cap through the other side and secure with a bobby pin. The ready-made handle adds to its convenience.—ELIZABETH

DEAR POLLY—I discovered how to make my children's large Easter baskets useful all the year round. I store in them some lovely old china tea cups and saucers that are only used occasionally. The fake green grass makes an ideal cushion for the china. Do be sure there is no candy left lurking in it. This is really a space saver as the baskets take up so much room anyway.—MARIA

DEAR POLLY—I wash about 100 diapers each week and they must all be hung up to dry. I improvised a back-saver to make this job easier. One load of diapers just fits in one of those inexpensive polyethylene pails. I bought hinged rings at the hardware store and clipped one onto each pail handle. When hanging the diapers, I just clip the pail handle to the line and slide it along ahead of me. The clothes pole keeps the line from sagging under its weight.

Did you know that a pastry blender will cut bananas quickly and uniformly?—NANCY

DEAR POLLY—I used and liked the hint for putting a sheet with pockets on the side of the playpen for baby. She enjoys it so much. Now I have made a sheet to hang on the outside of the playpen and tie it to the first one. In it I keep a variety of things to teach our three-year-old how to dress herself. A tiny jacket with a zipper, shoe with eyelets (laces and all), a bib, two items to button, a snap fastener and a hook and eye are all arranged so she can learn to manipulate them. Even her 5 and 7-year-old cousins like to play with this.

After heating baby's bottle, I slip it into one of those knitted coaster jackets made for tumblers. It keeps the bottle warm longer when traveling in the car, going to church and so on.—DOROTHY

The Mature Parent

Apologies Must Be Sincere

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My husband recently punished our 7-year-old son for taking some wire from a garage and lying about it. Later, he found the wire. He apologized to the boy for misjudging him; but instead of making up with his father, the child told his father that he wasn't a good Christian to do what he did. My husband once studied for the ministry and is very disturbed by the boy's unforbearing attitude though I keep telling him that he is too young to realize what he was saying . . .

Answer: Your husband isn't really sorry for punishing his son unjustly. Were he really sorry, he would agree with the boy that his unjust treatment had fallen short of his religious ideals. And there would be no division of viewpoint between them.

It is immoral to tell people that we regret mistreating them if our regret is not real. For in-sincere apology is simply a device for averting the offended person's criticism and recovering their approval. It says, "See how virtuous I am to confess my fault to you?"

Is it possible that your husband apologized to your child to reinstate himself with God rather than to reinstate himself with the child?

I have myself been the receiver of such heaven-directed apologies. Such apologists apologize, not because they appreciate the hurt they have done to the human being but because their behavior may have offended God. They are much more interested in their souls' acceptability to heaven than in the offense done to mere mortals like us. So they go through the ritual of "I'm sorry" with their minds on their own salvation. Naturally, we mere mortals sense the falsehood of their concern with the hurt they have done us. And, perhaps like your child, we refuse our trust to their apologies.

It was Jesus himself who said, "First, be reconciled to thy brother and then bring thy gift to the altar."

Maybe truer reconciliation can be made between your husband and son if your husband will try to appreciate the immense trust contained in the boy's accusation of him.

Children who do not trust us do not dare to entrust us with the truth of critical feeling about us.

By telling his father that he believed he had fallen short of your religion's ideals, your son was reaching for honesty in his parent—for truth, instead of pretense, between them. He sounds like a brave and loving little boy to me.

New Math Marches On

By SUSAN LIGHT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LIGHT: I was truly thrilled by the letter signed "New Math Teacher." As a member of the Philadelphia School District Arithmetic Curriculum Committee, I think I can shed a little more light on the subject.

We tell them that we compute in the decimal (10) system because man happened to have 10 fingers. When we show them that a computer can write any number using just two digits, one and zero, they want to know more.

Then we take them through base, 5, 8, and the duodecimal or base 12. They love computing in these bases. My sixth graders make up their own bases, or number systems. They then apply the new systems to the alphabet and write in code.

To an 11-year-old, this isn't arithmetic—it's fun.

The series of math books we use includes most of the new mathematical ideas, including algebra, geometry, numeration systems other than 10, prime numbers, probability, sets, and many others. I have seen my young adults learn so much in fields of mathematics they didn't know existed. I feel it's my duty to pass the good word along.—SIXTH-GRADE TEACHER

ANSWER: I'm sure many dubious parents will be happy to get "the good word" from someone in your position. Thanks so much for writing!
